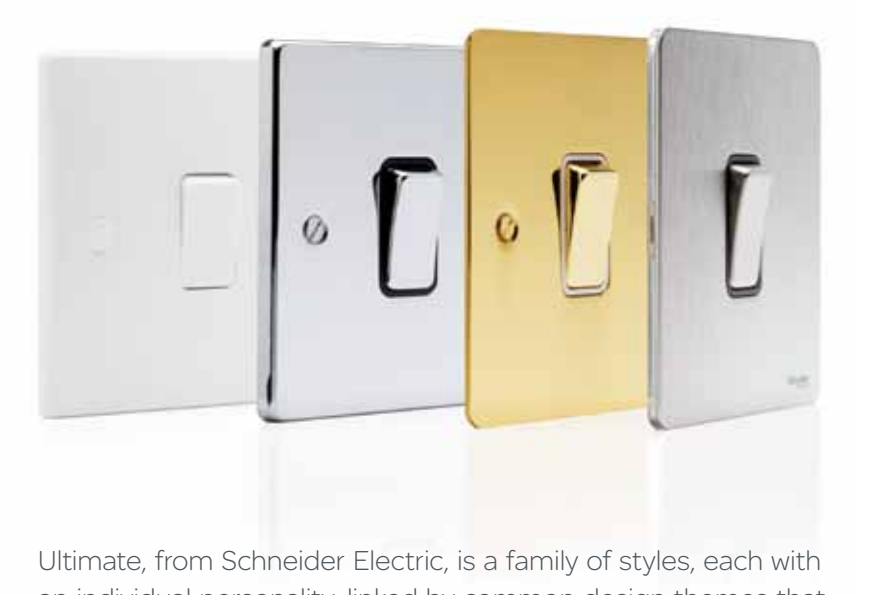
Ultimate... in tune with your life

Your home is a reflection of your personality, your tastes and your lifestyle. You decorate each space in tune with your mood and what you do there - a mix of light, bright spaces to play and work in and more subtle, cosy spaces to relax in.



Ultimate, from Schneider Electric, is a family of styles, each with an individual personality, linked by common design themes that harmonise with the tastes and moods throughout your home.

Design that clicks with your style

Design is all around us, we see today's clean, sophisticated design language in many of the things that we use everyday, from our cars to our computers and televisions.

With their sleek profiles and clean cut faces Ultimate accessories ooze contemporary style - and with a wide range of colours and finishes, they will seamlessly integrate into your chosen interior design theme.

All the comforts of home

Style is nothing without substance, so, the Ultimate family includes rotary and electronic dimmers that enable you to create your desired atmosphere, PIR detectors to switch lights on automatically, together with switches and sockets... putting you in control, wherever you are in your home.

Make the most of your environment

In today's energy hungry world we all need to make the most of the energy we use. Ultimate helps you make the most of your energy with innovative products that do more with less.

Presence detectors switch lights on when you enter a room and off once you leave, so you don't have to. Reducing the electricity you use and making life just that little bit easier for you.

Using dimmers in your living areas not only allows you to tailor the lighting to your mood it helps save energy too.
