Partners must be aware of local regulations

88% of partners expect customers to choose IT solutions that comply with government regulations.

1. Many regulations are currently voluntary.
2. EU countries are choosing to develop their own regulations as well as EU directives.
3. This makes it difficult for channel partners and vendors to act on a regional basis.
4. Implementation often differs by customer size.
5. Partners need to be aware of regulations and their impact on customer reporting.
