

The screenshot displays the Com'X510 web interface. On the left, a 'Login' window is open, featuring a green head icon, a language dropdown set to 'English', a username field with 'demo', a password field with masked characters, a 'Remember me on this computer' checkbox, and a 'Connect' button. The main interface shows a navigation menu with 'Monitoring', 'Control', 'Diagnostics', 'Settings', 'Device Settings', 'Measurements Table', 'Commissioning', 'Custom Library', and 'Logs'. The 'Energy Dashboard' is active, displaying a bar chart titled 'EM1350 Reactive Energy (VArh): Week over Week'. The chart shows data for two weeks: Week 12 (03/22/2015 - 03/28/2015) and Week 13 (03/29/2015 - 04/04/2015). The y-axis represents energy in MVAh, ranging from 0.00 to 6.00. The x-axis shows days of the week from SUN to SAT. The bars for Week 13 are significantly higher than those for Week 12.
