

Quality Policy

At Schneider Electric, safety and quality are foundational to the trust our customers, partners and employees have in us.

We apply the greatest care to our offerings, from products and systems to services and software, to meet our customers' safety and quality expectations.

We work closely with our suppliers and partners to reach the highest quality in the markets we serve.

Our people play an essential role in making an impact with these promises, embodying our values and building trust in all interactions. By fostering a culture of innovation, continuous improvement, and excellence, we strive to set new benchmarks in the industry.

Together, we will achieve our bold ambitions and continuously improve our practices, delivering a safe and high-quality experience for all.
